CLS Machine Translation – efficient by design

Translate quickly and securely with the CLS online tool

If your main concern is what a text says rather than how it says it, then CLS Machine Translation is the perfect solution. Our Web-based tool provides rough translations and can help you draft your correspondence while respecting your corporate wording. Not only is this a valuable asset in today's increasingly multilingual working environment, it can also save precious time and costs – with security and discretion guaranteed.

THE SECURE GATEWAY TO BETTER COMMUNICATION

In international companies employees spend a lot of time understanding and writing internal texts in other languages. This ties up significant resources and generates unnecessary costs. CLS Machine Translation can give you a helping hand over these linguistic hurdles. Our practical online tool creates a better working basis, facilitates internal company communication and offers a whole host of benefits:

- The solution does not require installation, support or maintenance and will save you having to invest in additional IT infrastructure
- Machine translation can generate cost savings of over 90% compared with traditional human translation
- Thanks to the low costs involved, internal documents can be translated for multilingual teams in all required languages – facilitating communication and helping teams work together more efficiently
- No matter what document you need translating, the highest standards of data security and confidentiality are guaranteed at all times
- Unlike free services, the translation system can be adapted to take into account company- and sector-specific terminology and specialist wording
- Integrated electronic dictionaries with approximately one million company- and sector-specific terms from the fields of finance, insurance, legal, telecommunications and biotech are being updated and expanded on an ongoing basis

MANY FACETS, MANY BENEFITS

CLS Machine Translation is based on a Web-based application that can be accessed from anywhere at any time. Be it an internal memo or e-mail, a PR article or a Web page – everything can be translated at the touch of a button the second you want it and at a cost that's right. As an added extra, if you need the text for further use CLS also offers an in-house post-editing service where one of our native-language translators will review and edit the draft version and polish it into a high-quality product – for a fraction of the cost of a pure human translation.

SECURE TECHNOLOGY

The high security standards of CLS Machine Translation have proven themselves in practice for several years. The browser-based solution can be made available to all employees via your company intranet. Data is transmitted in encrypted form, meaning that maximum security and absolute confidentiality are guaranteed at all times.
